Selected Kinnogene to work with based on some unique values that Kinnogene Inc. were able to provide Kodak in it's drive towards a becoming the leading info-imaging company in the Digital era in China.

Intervention outcome:

Bob – in a comment on a recent engagement with Kinnogene Inc to mobilize and energize his people – had this to say:

- ❑ “I was skeptical at first that we could achieve a significant heart and mind change in our people in the short 2 ½ days of the Future Search event.
- ❑ I was amazed and highly pleased to observe the energy , collaboration and action commitment evident in the cross-functional teams during the intervention by Kinnogene and Its principals Keke Quei and Dr. Tom Schwarz – a testament to the proven design fundamentals AND engaging people skills and facilitation experience brought to bear in the event.
- ❑ The Kinnogene team was both thorough in preparation and flexible in execution to provide an optimal action-ownership outcome by the participants. We look forward to sustained business performance benefits through the catalyzing of both better cross-functional collaboration and marked increases in commitment and self-ownership of individuals and teams to company strategy alignment plans and actions.”
